

Portfolio Base

What Should a Good Portfolio Include?

For artists, photographers, designers, and other creatives

1. Cover Page or Intro

- Your full name or brand name
- Your specialization (e.g., "Visual Artist | Mixed Media & Sculpture")
- A short tagline or artist statement

Example: "Transforming emotion into texture"

2. About / Bio / Artist Statement

- Who you are and what you create
- Your background, education, or experience (if relevant)
- Your inspirations, style, or philosophy
- Mediums and techniques you use

Example:

"I'm a London-based visual artist working with canvas, found objects, and clay. My work explores the human condition through abstract forms and natural textures. I draw inspiration from everyday imperfection and the healing power of art."

3. Selected Works / Projects

Include 6-15 of your best works. Focus on quality, not quantity.

For each piece, add:

- Title
- Year
- Materials / medium
- Dimensions (if physical)
- A brief concept or project description (optional but helpful)

For photographers:

Include location, type (e.g., editorial, product, fashion), and client (if applicable).

4. Categories (if applicable)

If you work across different mediums or styles, group your work into sections. Examples:

- For a photographer: Portrait / Fashion / Event
- For an artist: Paintings / Sculptures / Installations
- For a designer: Branding / UX / Illustration

5. Creative Process (optional)

Show your thinking and development. This could include:

- Sketches
- Moodboards
- Behind-the-scenes photos
- Work-in-progress shots

This adds depth and shows your artistic approach.

6. Exhibitions / Features / Achievements

Mention any:

- Exhibitions (solo or group)
- Press features or publications
- Competitions or awards
- Collaborations with brands, galleries, or cultural organizations

7. Contact Information / Call to Action

Make it easy for people to reach you.

Include:

- Email address
- Website or portfolio link
- Social media (Instagram, Behance, etc.)

You can also add:

“Open to commissions, exhibitions, and creative collaborations.”

8. Design and Format

Your portfolio can be:

- A PDF (easy to email or print)
- A website or online portfolio
- A presentation deck (PowerPoint, Google Slides, or Canva)
- A visual Instagram grid (for creatives with strong online presence)

Tips for a Strong Portfolio

- Update it regularly
- Show only your best work
- Keep the layout clean and consistent
- Tailor it to the purpose (gallery submission, client pitch, grant application)
